ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Research is no doubt a painstaking activity and its completion brings about a novel joy in one's life. Without the support of your near and dear one, it is almost next to impossible to accomplish it. During my research I had to face numerous difficulties. I was specially perturbed by the military operations carried out in the Bajaur Agency in August 2008 that affected not only my family but also adversely affected my research in return.

First of all Praise be to Allah that He gave me the strength to endure all that came in my way all along. Next is my supervisor whose unflinching intellectual support went a long way in its completion. On the turbulent waves of research the personality that safely steered me out to my destination is none other than my supervisor, Professor Dr. Sayed Wiqar Ali Shah. The very idea that he is my supervisor injected in me a sense of hope and enthusiasm that one day my labor and his support will bear fruit. I have no words to describe my gratitude to him. Dr. Razia Sultana, a graceful lady in her own right, has been very helpful during all my stay on the Department of History. I was lucky enough to have equally learnt much about the natty gritty of research from great historians like Dr. Saeed-ud-Din Dar, Dr. Naeem Quarshi, and the charming Dr. Sikandar Hayat. Professor Dr. Khurram Qadir, also provided me food by his comments for thought and helped me in refining my ideas. Last but nonetheless, I also owe a bundle of thanks to Professor Rafiq Afzal for his encouragement and going through, despite his tough schedule, part of my draft and provided me his valuable suggestions. Dr. Hanif Khalil, from the Institute of Pakistan Study also gave valuable suggestions.

My research endeavor would have also been a mission impossible if the covert and overt prayers of my parents, whom we called Lala and mother (Abai), would not have been
